II. Scoring Elements

A. Essay Section

Two essays written by the applicant are to be submitted on separate pages with the applicant's name on each page. Each essay should be a maximum of 250 words and attached to this form. An essay for each of the following topics is to be submitted:

- "Now that you will be moving out of the junior sailing program, what is the best way, in your view, for those graduating to 'give back' to improve the junior sailing programs."
- "What are the most important issues facing junior sailing today and what would you recommend to upcoming juniors to be ready for them."

B. Sailing Experience Section

The information submitted for this section should outline the participation and leadership of the applicant in sailing and sailing events. While all experiences are solicited, the most weight will be given to participation and leadership of the applicant in the high school years. To make the assessment on equal grounds, since some college students may apply for this scholarship, only experiences up to February of the applicant's senior year in high school will be scored. Due to policies of the Inter-Collegiate Sailing Association (ICSA) that exclude sailors from college competition if they receive scholarship monies for "sailing ability", no race results of the applicant should be submitted or will be considered. Information should be submitted with the name of the applicant on each page. Be concise, but complete, in providing information for this section.

C. Scholastic section

The applicant should submit a copy of an official transcript that includes their Grade Point Average (GPA) that includes the high school grades through the midterm of grade 12. A full listing of grades and courses is not required and applicants that have graduated from high school should submit a midterm grade 12 GPA to allow an equal assessment.

The applicant should submit a copy of the official results of the college testing score from either the ACT or SAT. If both are supplied, the results with the best score will be used.
